

COURT OF APPEAL OF YUKON

Court of Appeal of Yukon
Practice Note (Civil & Criminal)
Title: Adjournment of Appeals

Issued: 18 May 2017

Effective: 01 June 2017

Cite as: Adjournment of Appeals (Civil & Criminal Practice Note, 01 June 2017)

The practice of the Registry is to contact all counsel or self represented litigants approximately three weeks in advance of the hearing of the appeal to confirm the time estimate, to ensure that all materials are filed and to confirm that the appeal will proceed as scheduled. At this time, any concerns with the date, time scheduled or potential adjournments should be communicated to the registrar.

The registrar works closely with the Vancouver Court of Appeal scheduler who closely manages the hearing list because the time for the hearing of each appeal is set aside specifically for that appeal. There are no other cases waiting to proceed if an appeal is adjourned at the last minute.

Unforeseeable circumstances such as illness of counsel or death of a family member are legitimate reasons for seeking last minute adjournments. However, counsel's lack of preparation, late filings, or personal convenience are not. If you do not have one of these good reasons to adjourn your hearing, you will have to appear before the Court to explain your circumstances, even if you have the consent of the other parties.

In civil appeals, counsel and the parties setting the appeal for hearing must file a certificate of readiness within one year of filing the applicable notice of appeal or notice of application for leave to appeal. A notice of hearing must be filed two months after a certificate of readiness is filed. The present fixed date system for hearing appeals depends on having appeals proceed in a timely way in accordance with the date set in the notice of hearing.

The Court respectfully reminds counsel and self represented litigants of these matters so that sitting dates will not be lost.

---

Sharon Kerr
Registrar of the Court of Appeal of Yukon

History: This is a new practice note.