Diversion Payments into Court

Counsel are encouraged to reach informal diversion agreements in appropriate cases. These agreements often include the payment of money by way of restitution or donation. In the absence of a formal adult diversion program in the Yukon, the Court authorizes use of the Court Registry to receive and disburse funds in relation to informal diversion agreements when accompanied by a completed Diversion Funds Agreement form signed by both counsel, or where the accused is self-represented, by the accused and Crown counsel.
